PROFESSIONAL AND CONTINUING EDUCATION

Winter 2021 - Fully Online!

Los Angeles Classroom Courses Now 100% Online!

USD has selected these course topics for LA teachers as most schools will continue with remote teaching and learning after the first of the year. Be prepared and confident in your teaching, knowing that these courses will help you plan and strategize for continued student learning. These courses have been created to provide our same high-level classroom experience all while being able to learn from the comfort of your home. We believe you will enjoy these courses that can be taken simultaneously or one after the other within the dates provided. Courses will be taught by our regular Los Angeles area instructors.

Visit our site today to register! SANDIEGO.EDU/LACOURSES

GRADUATE - LEVEL EXTENSION CLASSES FOR EDUCATORS

Teaching For Joy and Equity in the K-12 Classroom (3 Credit Course) - EDU-X714S

This course provides K-12 educators, in all subject areas, opportunities to engage with anti-racist literature in order to apply this to their own lesson design. Teachers will participate in the process of: Listen, Reflect, Interrogate, Act, Repeat. In addition, participants will explore many areas of teaching such as: educator self-care, visioning, examination of current approaches, application of equitable teaching practices, and strategies to bolster student agency. Teachers will come away with new tools and lessons to promote joy and bolster equity in their classroom.

New Curriculum for New Times: Planning/Realigning Curriculum (3 Credit Course) – EDU-X750J

This course is intended for K-12 educators who would like to develop stimulating and impactful curriculum. Educators will work closely with an instructor in order to promote effective teaching for the current or upcoming school year. Students will use the feedback provided to them by the instructor in order to create goals for the course and ultimately an implementation plan for their new curriculum. Participants have the option to refresh existing lessons and curriculum or they can use this course to build brand new curriculum. Educators have the option to incorporate resources into their plan that will be impactful in the classroom, which may include how to transition to and from the remote learning environment. This course does not limit participants to a specific subject matter; students are free to choose the area of curriculum that they feel would benefit from a redesign. Participants can focus on the need for new resources, textbooks, lesson plans or modify their curriculum in order to align to new standards.

Class Instructor	Craig Yokoi	Tim Brown	Vicky Montes	Jennifer Kraus	Scott Cody
EDU-X714S	001	002	003	004	005
EDU-X750J	023	N/A	024	025	026

Online self-paced courses are a perfect blend of accessibility, convenience and flexibility for you to control your learning pace. Participants will continue to have access to classes, view assignments and course resources at any time from any computer with Internet capability. Your instructor will provide feedback via written responses on your assignments and final project. Grades are based on assignments and completed projects. You have up to March 5, 2021 to complete and submit your course assignments.

Class Dates: January 11 - March 5, 2021

Classes Will Run Concurrently

Registration Closes February 7, 2021

Who: This course is designed for Pre-K-12 educators. Course credit may be used for salary step increase and professional development.

Credit: These courses have been approved by the University of San Diegos Department of Professional and Continuing Education for 3 semester units of graduate-level extension credit.

Tuition: $349 for 3 semester units of extension credit for each class. This fee includes one free official transcript. Checks, American Express, Visa, Mastercard and Discover are accepted.

University of San Diego - (888) 321-6658 | Information/Registration Online - sandiego.edu/lacourses

Continuing Education at the University of San Diego is approved to meet teaching credential requirements by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing. UPCOMING CLASSES March 2021 | UNSUBSCRIBE: To be removed from our mailing list, please email your request to krose@sandiego.edu